

CynaMed Healthcare Staffing Solutions, Pittsburgh's premier healthcare staffing agency, has been recertified by The Joint Commission and carries the organization's Gold Seal of Approval, an internationally recognized mark of quality.

The Joint Commission (TJC) is an independent, not-for-profit organization dedicated to evaluating quality achievement in patient care and safety. TJC is widely recognized as the global leader for healthcare accreditation and sets the standard for the delivery of healthcare services around the world. Founded in 2003, CynaMed is one of the fastest growing consulting agencies in Pittsburgh and the first locally-owned healthcare staffing agency to be certified by The Joint Commission.

The Joint Commission's certification programs are designed to evaluate clinical programs across the continuum of care. The Gold Seal of Approval specifically recognizes dedication to improving healthcare quality and patient safety. Certification from The Joint Commission requires an evaluation to verify compliance with certain healthcare standards and an indisputable commitment to improvement activities.

"CynaMed employs some of the most talented, experienced and professional staffing specialists in the industry," says CynaMed Michael Blackburn. "Our healthcare staffing agency was the first locally-owned agency that was certified by the Joint Commission many years ago. As we and the Joint Commission have evolved, we have just completed the recertification process. We work hard to place qualified healthcare professionals in a wide range of settings across the healthcare industry."

Cynamed is dedicated to providing quality candidates to fulfill the staffing needs of large hospitals, medical practices, rehabilitation facilities, nursing homes and other healthcare facilities in the greater Pittsburgh area. The staffing agency is recognized for its commitment to providing the highest standard of care and expertise and remaining at the forefront of the ever-evolving healthcare industry.

"Through my 25 years of experience, I've witnessed an evolution in the medical industry. I have formed the conclusion that the only thing consistent in healthcare is change," says CynaMed CEO Michael Blackburn. "When I purchased Cynamed, Inc in 2010 I had a vision to break the mold in Healthcare Staffing. At Cynamed we strive to achieve the highest standard of excellence for healthcare systems in our region. From all of us at Cynamed, we hope that you benefit from our people and sincerely appreciate your shared passion in doing great business."

For more than a decade, CynaMed has staffed a wide range of skilled nursing and healthcare professionals in some of Western Pennsylvania's most distinguished healthcare facilities. The agency provides skilled and compassionate RNs (Registered Nurses), LPNs (Licensed Practical Nurses), CNAs (Certified Nursing Assistants) and Certified Med Techs for part-time, per diem and/or permanent placement.

In order to ensure the best possible match, CynaMed candidates undergo a rigorous screening process that includes skills tests, drug testing and background and reference checks. Over the years, CynaMed has built solid relationships with top healthcare clients and earned a reputation for excellence in healthcare staffing solutions.

"In the greater Pittsburgh area, the healthcare industry is always growing," says CynaMed. "We work with some of the top facilities and have access to some of the most coveted nursing positions in the area."

CynaMed's unique approach to healthcare staffing covers three specialized divisions: nursing, therapy and allied health, the latter of which encompasses a wide range of positions, including Dental Assistants, Medical Coders, Physician Assistants, Surgical Technicians, Dialysis Technicians and Laboratory Technicians. The agency's commitment to rigorously testing the qualifications and competency of their staff, placing staff in suitable positions and closely monitoring their performance is what sets CynaMed apart from other healthcare staffing agencies in the area.

COVID-19 and Staying Safe

As a healthcare worker, you're on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic. Dealing with patients with confirmed or possible cases, therefore having an increased risk of exposure to the virus. While there is still much to learn about the virus, based on what is currently known about COVID-19 and what is known about other coronaviruses, spread is thought to occur mostly from person-to-person via respiratory droplets and close contact. The CDC recommends these steps to protect yourself:

- Assess and triage these patients with acute respiratory symptoms and risk factors for COVID-19 to minimize chances of exposure, including placing a facemask on the patient and placing them in an examination room with the door closed.
- Use Standard and Transmission-Based Precautions when caring for patients with confirmed or possible COVID-19.
- Perform hand hygiene with alcohol-based hand rub before and after all patient contact, contact with potentially infectious material, and before putting on and upon removal of PPE, including gloves. Use soap and water if hands are visibly soiled.
- Practice how to properly don, use, and doff PPEpdf icon in a manner to prevent self-contamination.
- Perform aerosol-generating procedures, in an AIIR, while following appropriate IPC practices, including use of appropriate PPE.

Our offices are closed, with our staff working remotely, but we're doing everything in our power to be available for our clients and potential clients. Following CDC Guidelines and social distancing if you do need to drop by we can accommodate applicants as needed. Our remote staff will remain available for our active employees, potential employees, candidates, clients, and potential clients 24-7 to service your employment needs during this Pandemic.
